

SUNY Graduate Diversity Fellowship Buffalo State

State University of New York offers a fellowship program to recruit, enroll, and retain students who will contribute to the diversity of the student body in the university's graduate and professional programs. Each year this program funds five hundred students throughout SUNY colleges and universities.

Awards

Students who are awarded a Graduate Diversity Fellowship may receive a full tuition scholarship (at least 9 graduate credit hours per semester) and/or a stipend for three semesters. Students must be matriculated in a graduate program and register for full-time coursework to receive funding.

Up to fifteen (15) graduate credit hours of tuition can be funded each fall and spring semester. (The tuition amount will be adjusted for in-state tuition). It is the student's responsibility to pay all college fees.

- Fellows must maintain a 3.0 cumulative GPA each semester and be making progress through their program to continue to receive funding.
- Fellows must complete an Application for Graduate Tuition Scholarship each semester.

Eligibility

Applicants must be:

- U.S. citizens or hold permanent resident status.
- Must demonstrate that they would contribute to the diversity of the student body in the program for which they are pursuing, including having overcome a disadvantage or other impediment to success in higher education.
- Accepted as matriculated, full-time students (registering for at least 9 graduate credits each semester) in a graduate program.
- Applying for other financial aid programs that may be available to them through other sources. This allows the college to maximize funds available under the fellowship program.
